In few words, this program is an amazing value!

I completed the KWC Ambassador program at a time when I had recently developed my passion for health and wellness (through the Institute for Integrative Nutrition) and an increasing interest in workplace wellness. Having shopped numerous competing programs that in my opinion focused too heavily on the marketing and income and not enough on learning of the industry, I luckily found Kelly Wellness Consulting.

The Ambassador curriculum provides a targeted blend of fundamentals, a plethora of immediately applicable tools and assessments and beyond generous support from Lisa and her knowledgeable expert associates. The webinar sessions both core and extracurricular are informative and deepen your knowledge in a given area.

By the time I completed the course I had eagerly and confidently begun to apply what I’d learned at my day job. The individual support I received in how to approach our CEO to form a wellness committee and executing a plan for such, was instrumental to my success. In addition, I am endowed with confidence and the tools to seek out contracts as an independent workplace wellness consultant.

Continuing on with the Master Ambassador Certification program was a no-brainer. There I received even more education, coaching and support and built a network of professionals that to this day I continue to consult on a regular basis as I continue to evolve my status in this field.

The benefits of both programs continue long after the formal training ends!
